Instructions for the Master’s Thesis presentation

During a thesis presentation occasion there is normally more than one presentation. The habit is not to leave during other people’s presentations. In the conference room there is a television projector, network connection, an overhead projector and a mark-pen board. You may want to come a little bit earlier to check your connection and test your device (laptop etc). If you need to borrow a laptop for your presentation please contact the person you enrolled to.

The length of a presentation is 15 to 20 minutes. After the presentation 10 minutes is reserved for discussion.

To get your professor’s signature after the presentation, please print out the form “Presentation of the Master’s thesis” (under the title Forms for students of Computer Science and Engineering)
