Suomeksi | På svenska

As indicated by working life surveys, the English courses at Aalto Language Centre emphasise communication and language skills needed for academic and/or working life. Such skills include giving presentations, arguing a position, and writing up reports. Good oral and written skills (defined as a minimum level of CEFR B2) are considered important, particularly in managerial positions and for career development.

Aalto University Degree students in the schools of ARTS, CHEM, ELEC, ENG and SCI must demonstrate both oral (o) and written (w) proficiency in one foreign language; 6 credits total for ARTS and 3 credits total for CHEM, ELEC, ENG and SCI. If you don't know which course you should take as a degree student of CHEM, ELEC, ENG or SCI, the details can be found here.

Note that in selecting students to courses, priority will be given to degree-seeking students who have earned the most credits. If space is available in courses, then exchange students will be admitted.

For general questions and queries about our English courses, please email languagecentre@aalto.fi or anyone of the English teachers.
