Aalto University School of Business offers several Master's degree programs in English and dozens of courses in English on bachelor level. More than 160 English-lectured courses are available in the business school and dozens of multidisciplinary courses in other Aalto schools in the fields of art, design and technology.

Most of the courses lectured in English at the School of Business are available for you. There are however some courses that might have restrictions or quotas. The requirements are usually mentioned in the course descriptions in Weboodi. Certain courses can sometimes be available for certain majors only or master level students only etc. In general, bachelor students are allowed to take master level courses provided that they fulfil the possible prerequisites and there are places available. NB! CEMS students are advised to check the up-to-date list of CEMS accredited courses prior to semester start.
