

Completing your master's thesis

Master's Thesis is an independent research and development project in material science jointly supervised by the 1st year university professor and 2nd year university professor.

Instructions for the second year students are available on the subpage Second year at Aalto.